I used to dream about the kind of house I would live in when I grew up. I wanted gracious, rooms, a large kitchen, a family room and—for reasons passing understanding—I wanted a stream running through the house with a waterfall somewhere in it. The house I actually live in was more than 100 years old when we bought it. It needed a boiler, a roof, and a new bathroom within the first year.

The rooms were small; the kitchen had no drawers. There were no closets on the first floor. But it was ours and we raised our family in it. The smallness of the house did not seem to matter to our children's school friends who regularly visited, knew they could call us if there was an emergency, and could count on a full bowl of fruit salad (strawberries, blueberries, kiwi, and grapes) in the refrigerator.

It would have been easy to have complained about the difference between the dream and the reality. My husband and I might have argued about getting a bigger home. But we realized that "home" was not about the building; it was—and is—about the community and relationships inside.

Had the love not been there, we might have even become divided over the flaws. I like to think that our marriage and family were blessed with the grace to see what was important. I know that in a world of poverty, we were privileged. But I believe that having each other and sharing our faith was our strength and our foundation, and would have been even if we had lost everything.

From Father Khoa's Desk...

Dear Parishioners and Friends,

This weekend we celebrate The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi). The gift of the Eucharist that Jesus instituted for all believers at that Last Supper is not just a sign or a symbol of Jesus' sacrifice. It is something that we are called to participate in. He has given us the instruction to take the Eucharistic bread his body hidden within and to make it part of ourselves.

Through this great sacrament, which we celebrate on today's feast of Corpus Christi, we are able to be united, in a deeply mystical yet truly physical way, to our Lord and Savior. This Food also for the journey is the most intimate communion of the baptized person with their Lord and Savior. Behold, I will remain with you all days to the end of the world. It is precisely because of this intimacy that the church wants only those who are sacramentally professed Catholics to receive Holy Communion provided they have confessed and received absolution for serious sin.

St. Paul compares the marital love and communion between husband and wife to this union of Christ with us in his body, the Church, in the Eucharist. This is the depth of intimacy, which first requires a public commitment (professing my belief through the sacraments in what the Catholic Church teaches of each person prior to receiving the Eucharist.

All are welcome to participate in the Liturgy and pray with us. At the time of communion if you are of a different faith group, or any other reason you are not receiving the Eucharist, you may cross your arms over your chest as an indication that you would like to receive a blessing as a spiritual communion with Christ

Have a great week! May God bless all of us!

...Fr. Khoa
