

A Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Come Holy Spirit, fill my heart with Your Holy gifts.

Let my weakness be penetrated with Your strength this very day that I may fulfill all the duties of my state conscientiously, that I may do what is right and just.

Let my charity be such as to offend no one and hurt no one's feelings; so generous as to pardon sincerely any wrong done to me.

Assist me, O Holy Spirit, in all my trials of life, enlighten me in my ignorance, advise me in my doubts, strengthen me in my weakness, help me in all my needs, protect me in temptations and console me in afflictions.

Graciously hear me, O Holy Spirit, and pour Your light into my heart, my soul, and my mind.

Assist me to live a Holy life and to grow in goodness and grace.

Amen

Thirty-First Sunday
Ordinary Time

Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, "The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, so practice and observe whatever they tell you— but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger."

Fr. Cuddy's Corner

A Priest was walking down the street when he spotted about a dozen boys all between 10 and 12 years of age who were gathered around a little dog.

Concerned that the kids might be harming the animal, the Priest went over and sked, "What are you boys doing with that dog?"

One replied, "This dog is just an old neighborhood stray, Father. We all want to take him home, but only one of us can have him. So we've decided that whichever one of us can tell the biggest fib will get to keep it."

The Priest was shocked, "You shouldn't be having a contest telling fibs," he said, and then he launched into a ten-minute homily against lying. He ended it, saying, "Why, when I was your age, I never told a lie."

There was dead silence for about a minute, just as the Priest was beginning to think he'd gotten through to them, the smallest boy gave a deep sigh and said, "All right, give him the dog."
